

Lab Locker Equipment

CHECKING INTO THE LAB

Once you have a confirmed space in the lab you may check in to your locker. This involves going through your locker to verify that you have all the items listed on the checkout sheet and that all these items are completely functional. There should be no cracks or breaks in any glassware.

CHECKING OUT OF THE LAB

You must check out of your locker when you are done with the class. All students check out at the end of the final lab session, after the last experiment. However, if you drop the course mid-quarter, it is your responsibility to check out.

LOCKER REFERENCE LISTS

Figure 1: Items are not shown to scale

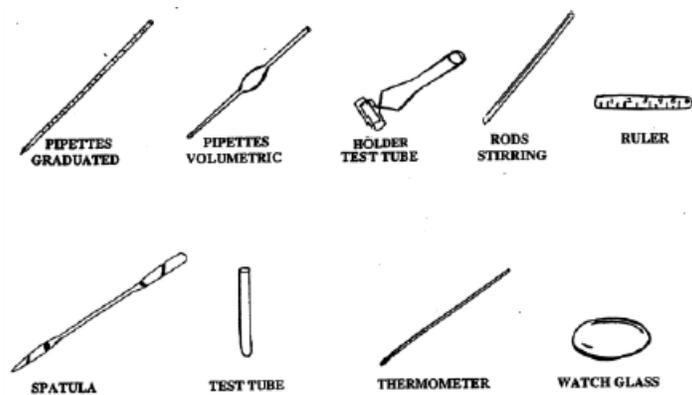

Figure 2: Items are not shown to scale